ZERODIUM

ZERODIUM is a cybersecurity company with operations in North America and EMEA. ZERODIUM was founded by cybersecurity veterans with unparalleled experience in advanced vulnerability research and active cyber defense.

We've created ZERODIUM to build a global community of talented and independent security researchers working together to provide the most up-to-date source of cybersecurity research and capabilities. ZERODIUM pays security researchers to acquire their zero-day discoveries and then analyzes, aggregates, documents, and provides all acquired security intelligence, along with protective measures and security recommendations, to its clients as part of the ZERODIUM Zero-Day Research Feed \(solutions.html\).

For more information about our tailored cybersecurity capabilities for governments or our protective solutions for corporations, please contact us \(contact.html\). Access to ZERODIUM solutions and capabilities is highly restricted and is only available to a very limited number of eligible customers. ZERODIUM does not have any sales partner or reseller. Our
